for Bencher

Have you ever attended a meeting of Convocation? Did you know that Convocation is open to the public, but there is no room for the profession or public to sit?

Whether it is a lawyer or a member of the general public, with the exception of the media room, there is simply no accommodation to access Convocation's public proceedings. I want to change this. I am the only candidate who has proposed that the public portion of Convocation's proceedings be live webcast so that members of the profession and the public can see for themselves how the decisions of Convocation are made.
